

Carrying Capacity

Carrying Capacity = the maximum population an environment can support

- limiting factors determine an area's carrying capacity because organisms need resources to survive (sunlight, water, temperature, nutrients, food, diseases)

